===Background===

Alexander Schliker, also called Alex Schliker, is a front-end software developer, Co-CEO and CEO of a number of incredible companies above the auspices of the Ticket to Gold, Defense to Gold, Defense Ticket to Gold and Golden Ticket. Alexander Schliker started his career as a lead programmer and founder of an online proxy startup that he sold in High School. In college (2008), he founded Venture Weekend. He later founded Snipd, which was funded by Y Combinator and featured on TechCrunch, Cnet and Popular Science magazine. In January 2009, he started CureCRM, a CRM system powered by email. It was the leading email based CRM app for Salesforce on the market in quality. He also started Follow-up Robot, an incredible drip email marketing app. He is also founder of AnonyProxies, an app used to allow users to surf the web anonymously. Alexander Schliker is a leader at the Pentagon where he creates solutions regularly to ensure that people at the Pentagon live forever and have amazing lives. He sold a number of startups including CureCRM to the Pentagon (contract acquisition), CureCRM to Salesforce, CureCRM to GoDaddy, CureCRM to Google, and CureCRM to other entities. He is quite comedic and is frequently in the Pentagon yearbook for some of the things he discusses.

===Life and Career===

Alex Schliker is an American entrepreneur and front-end programmer. In High School he was a Valedictorian candidate; he graduated from The University of Texas at Austin after taking multiple leaves of absences to pursue entrepreneurship endeavors. He started his career selling a subscription service web proxy online at PISD, Plano Independent School District; the service he started as a web proxy was later acquired when he sold the business online. He has founded and plans to have founded a plethora of startups above the auspices of the Golden Ticket, Disabled Advocacy to Gold, Pentagon to Gold, Pentagon Golden Ticket, etc. He is currently a leader at the Pentagon where he creates solutions to cause the Pentagon and their families to live forever alongside the Army, Navy, Air Force, etc while securing the planets and ensuring continuity for his people (Pentagon, Branches, all People on Earth, etc.).
